Membership Categories

- Regular Membership (voting) at $2,000 one individual per corporation
- Associate Membership (nonvoting), $100, for students and faculty in academic institutions and include fire safety consultants

NOTE: New members joining six months prior to the annual meeting will pay for the entire current fiscal year. New members joining three months prior to the annual conference will pay a membership fee prorated for the remaining months in the current year and the next year.

The Photoluminescent Safety Association (PSA) is incorporated and organized as a business league as that term is used in Section 501(c)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. (EIN 02-0778825). None of the 2006 dues will be used to engage in any lobbying activities. Because no portion of the PSA's annual membership dues is used for the purpose of lobbying, the full amount of your dues payment is deductible as an ordinary and necessary business expense.
